BIOGRAPHY

WERO, born Roman Weyermann (May 23, 1996), is a DJ and producer from Bern, Switzerland, known for high-energy sets with depth and character. His musical journey began in the studio on April 2, 2020 and has since evolved rapidly into a distinctive signature within the electronic music scene.

Together with three close companions, including DJ and musician MATHIEU, he co-founded the music and record label FOURSIDE. Since then, WERO has played numerous national shows in front of thousands of people and released multiple tracks on the label—consistently building an independent artistic vision beyond the mainstream.

WERO stands out through his musical intelligence, technical finesse, and instinctive sense for the right moment. His sets are more than just music; they are carefully composed narratives that build tension, release it, and then surprise us, sometimes artistic and striking. Lothric is one of his tracks with a strong and unmistakable identity. WERO knows exactly how to pull people out of everyday life and bring them fully into the here and now.

His artistic identity moves between Melodic Techno, Indie Dance, and powerful Tech House. Anyone who experiences WERO knows they are witnessing an artist with a clear vision – uncompromising, intense, and authentic.

Whether performing at WeLoveTechno alongside Joris Voorn, in front of thousands at Wankdorf Festival Bern together with TH3N, or at the FOURSIDE invites event series with YUBIK (AFTERLIFE Records), WERO has already played numerous major stages and festivals. In doing so, he continuously expands his artistic reach and international network, having connected with renowned names such as Lilly Palmer, Korolova, and Parabolic.

As a producer, WERO has also made a strong impact. With the tracks "Get High" and "Safe and Sound," he laid the foundation for his musical career, reaching several thousand listeners. His solo debut "Red Lights" marked the next step and resonated with audiences worldwide.

Beyond music, WERO is a central creative force behind FOURSIDE Records. Thanks to his strong graphic design skills, he plays a leading role in shaping the label's visual identity and acts as a driving force in design, ensuring a cohesive overall aesthetic and a clear, recognizable brand presence.

In addition, WERO merges sound and aesthetics beyond the label itself. In collaboration with Zurich-based fashion brand D'Constructed, he has designed exclusive fashion collaborations and serves as an ambassador – seamlessly blending music, fashion, and identity.

WERO is not just a DJ — he is an experience.
